We warmly invite you to a dynamic CSW69 side-event, where we'll explore powerful ways to protect, promote, and fulfill the fundamental human rights of women, girls, and marginalized communities across diverse contexts. In today's complex political landscape, embracing pluralism and diversity isn't just beneficial—it's essential. Our conversation will highlight how pluralistic approaches can foster coexistence, inclusion, and genuine equality, even amid significant challenges. We'll also delve deeper into specific human rights standards, including the crucial intersection between conscientious objection and access to abortion services.
